

Dr. Steven Kahn presents:
“When to Help”

Monday, Feb. 6, 6:30 p.m.
Archangel Hall

Parents want to help their children whenever it is in their best interests to be helped. At the same time we want to allow them to grow from experiences without unhelpful interference from us. We know that friendships can be challenging at times, that school work and deadlines can be stressful but it is not always easy to tell when our children will be best served by our efforts to help. How best to know when to help and when to wait?

Parents: Please join us Monday, February 6 at 6:30 p.m. in Archangel Hall as we welcome back our school’s psychologist, Dr. Steven Kahn, for this interesting and informative discussion.
